"Donate regularly every year.
This kind of person is worth supporting."

"The giver like this.
Wish he could run our country"

How would you like to be helped

A human..
Not a bridge.

Many people think making donations is enough.
People with disability have become just bridges of merit
and tools for public relations.

Sometimes donations become wasted.
Sustainable assistance should be asking people with disability
what they really want and help to the right point.

And, if you are a big shot in society,
help to propel some good policy as well.
